

My Internship Journey thus far

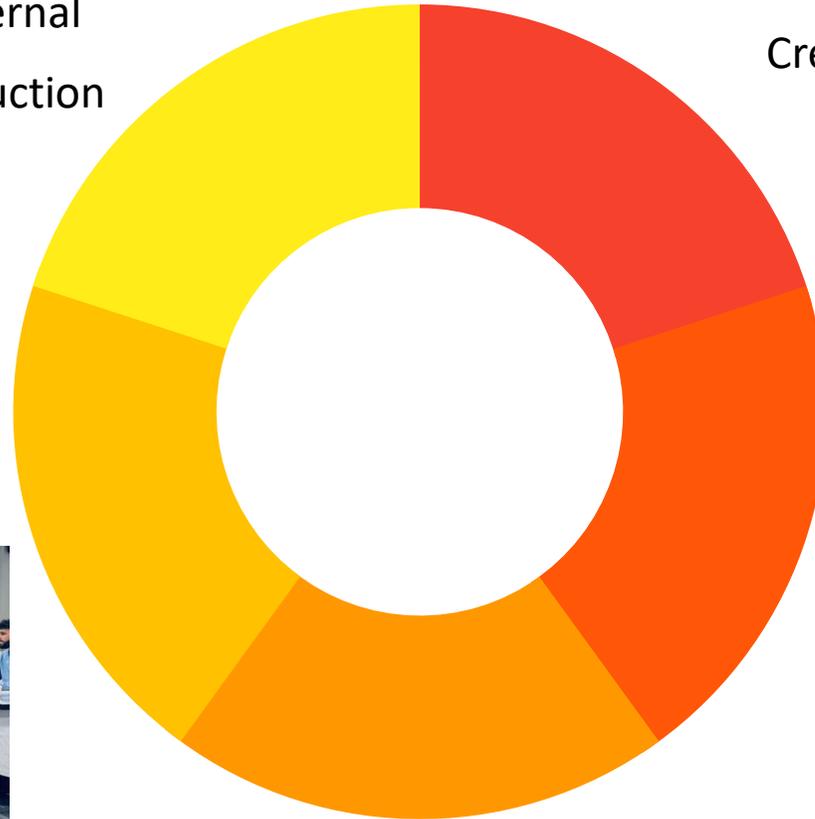

A Typical Day as a Materials and Processing Intern

Collaborate with internal teams to solve production issues

Create and organize specifications

Attend intern specific professional development

Develop and review test plans/reports

Plan and manage project schedules

Takeaways from My Internship

1

Earned additional income

2

Networked with industry professionals

3

Explored potential future careers

4

Practiced employable skills

How to Land an Internship

1. Review your university's guidelines for graduate student internships.

- For example: Leave of Absence - Graduate School - University of British Columbia - Vancouver – Canada

2. Discuss professional leave feasibility with supervisor (if relevant)

3. Apply for Internships

- A. Create or leverage your existing network
 - Talking to professionals at a conference, joining a professional organization
 - Mentorship Program – CACCSMA
- B. University co-op program
- C. Mitacs
 - Mitacs accelerate
 - Mitacs accelerate international
 - Mitacs Business Strategy Internship
- D. Online platform
 - A. LinkedIn, Indeed, company websites